

HVEN BENCH

Designed by Anton Björnsing

The series has its name after the little island of Hven located in the Öresund strait between Sweden and Denmark, bringing the two countries closer together. Hven Bench is made from solid oak which is easy to maintain and ensures a long durability. In addition, the oak comes from FSC-certified forests, in which no more trees are cut down than the forest can reproduce, and where biodiversity and local communities are protected as well.
